

Services to GP practices

Larking Gowen's comprehensive medical accounting, administration and advice services allow health professionals more time to spend on their patients."

What we offer

Larking Gowen offers a comprehensive medical accountancy and advice service that covers everything your practice needs.

Our approach is to provide you with a single point of contact; someone who knows about your affairs and can help you with any day-to-day queries.

When working with GP practices our key contact is with the practice manager and/or one of the partners in the practice. This ensures that we build a good relationship which is beneficial to all parties.

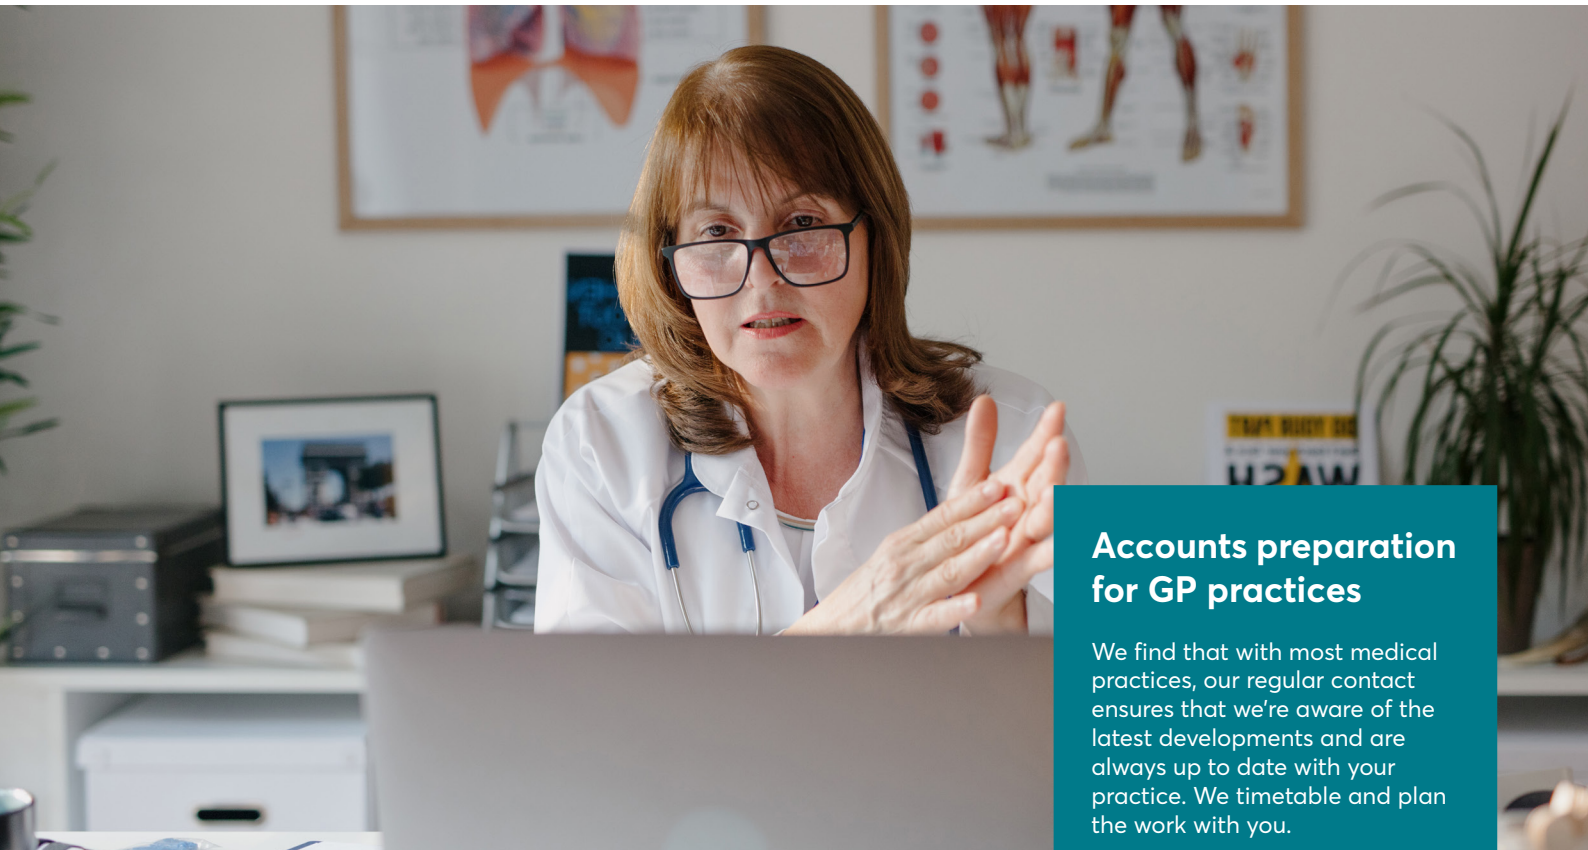

Our expertise

As members of The Association of Specialist Medical Accountants (AISMA), our specialist team offers you:

- Pro-active business advice.
- Expertise in the medical sector.
- Constructive assistance in developing your business.
- Up-to-date knowledge.

Our team acts for over 130 medical practices across East Anglia, Essex and London.

We've been advising GP practices and medical consultants since 1988. Recently we've been involved in the affairs of private consultancy groups.

Accounts preparation for GP practices

We find that with most medical practices, our regular contact ensures that we're aware of the latest developments and are always up to date with your practice. We timetable and plan the work with you.

We will, in particular, consider the areas individual to your profession, such as:

- The standardisation of accounts presentation that follows the funding streams of the GP contracts.
- The accountancy treatment of reimbursement for capital expenditure.
- Complex profit sharing arrangements.
- The NHS pension scheme.
- Preparation of accounts for Primary Care Networks.
- Checking completeness and accuracy of income.
- Reconciliation of salaried GP pension contributions.

Our services

We advise on a wide range of issues, including:

- Accounting and taxation implications of partnership changes.
- Planning for succession within the practice.
- The use of partners' capital and current accounts.
- Profit sharing.
- Practice performance comparisons.
- Maximisation of personal expense claims.
- GMS and PMS contract issues.

Personal taxation

We have extensive experience in helping clients with their tax affairs and can give you effective advice for the following areas:

- Personal tax advice.
- Completion of personal self assessment tax returns.
- Capital taxes, including inheritance tax.
- Setting up and administering trusts.
- Tax planning for property ownership.
- Planning retirement.
