

Case study:

We advised the shareholders of Circuitlink PTY Ltd on their acquisition of RJS UK Holdings (trading as Bowmonk).

The deal

Circuitlink PTY Ltd is a specialist provider of vehicle testing and diagnostic technology and has worked closely with Bowmonk for many years, with Bowmonk's product range incorporating Circuitlink's proprietary IP.

Bowmonk (RJS UK Holdings), established in 1966, is a globally recognised manufacturer of brake testing and vehicle compliance equipment, with a long-standing reputation for quality and innovation.

The acquisition represented a natural strategic step for Circuitlink, bringing Bowmonk's UK-based engineering capability and established product portfolio formally into the group. As a cross-border transaction between an Australian buyer and a UK business, the deal strengthens Circuitlink's international presence and further consolidates its position within the global vehicle testing and compliance market.

Our role

- Financial due diligence
- Tax due diligence
- Tax advice
- Advising on financial aspects of the legal contracts

Client:

Circuitlink PTY Limited

Industry sector:

Vehicle testing and compliance

Transaction:

Business purchase

Key highlight:

Circuitlink's acquisition of Bowmonk represented an important strategic step, bringing together two businesses with a long-standing technical relationship in the vehicle testing and compliance sector. It was particularly pleasing for Larking Gowen to support an international buyer on a transaction of this nature, reflecting the firm's growing track record in cross-border advisory work.

This transaction further demonstrates our capability to work seamlessly with overseas clients, providing clear guidance, detailed diligence and proactive communication throughout the process to help deliver a successful outcome.

Comments

Lindsay Silcock, Director and Shareholder of Circuitlink PTY Limited, said:

"Jack and Ben provided excellent buyside support throughout the transaction. Their due diligence reports were clearly structured, practical in their recommendations, and easy to follow, giving us a focused view of the areas that mattered most. They helped to ensure that matters progressed smoothly and communicated well at every stage. The team were responsive, efficient, and very easy to work with."

Jack Minns, Corporate Transactions Partner, said:

"This transaction brought together two businesses with a long-standing and highly complementary relationship, so the acquisition made complete strategic sense for both sides. It was very pleasing to see the deal completed successfully and to help position both businesses for the exciting opportunities ahead."